Comments

“ Bruce was a kind hearted soul, he would do things for others and not expect anything in return. He was always there to help out when we would least expect it!

Quite a few years ago my husband was roofing our house and Bruce came by to see how things were going. Next thing, he was carrying shingles up the ladder to my husband, his knees were shaking. My husband asked Bruce what was wrong and he said that he didn't like heights! Here he was helping us even though he was very uncomfortable.

Another time we were out of town for a few days and while we were gone we had alot of snow but our sidewalk and driveway were clean. Bruce had come over with a snow blower and cleared our sidewalk and driveway so we didn't have to do it when we got home.

Bruce was a caring person with such a good heart, he could take a little ribbing but was also very good at dishing it out. We will miss him very much!
