“ “Mr Brandt” would no longer answer when I spoke to him after the first 15 years of addressing him this way. It was “Dan” or we weren’t going to talk. ❤️ Took a while but I learned. Always smiling and happy to talk, through countless family gatherings, holidays, camping and just at the house. A second father for sure! One of the nicest people I have known. He will be missed! 💔

“ My memories of Uncle Dan are inspiration; steady under pressure and capable of shouldering everything thrown his way. He was kind when you needed kindness and motivating when you needed truth. He was a good man and we are fortunate to have known him. Rest In Peace.
