“ I know this is long overdue. I am Melissa Marie Enderle first daughter of Dennis's. And all I can say is my dad was awesome. Among his talents were fishing, drinking, and cooking. He made the best breakfast burrito I've ever had and never been able to recreate. My dad worked hard and played hard. He also taught me how to swim and clean a bullhead though I've never done it since. This much I do know him and my little sister Kristina are up there now drinking a bud and a shot , saving a spot at the table for me. I'm so grateful for the times we had together and even though I wasn't there in the end, I sure feel your presence now. And it shows in my son, especially when he grits his teeth and sacks the quarterback. I love you dad, now you can watch over us and laugh. Xoxo
