“Dad, this is extremely difficult to write. I am sorry for things that can't be changed. I have great memories of going fishing with you, playing badminton in the yard, learning to drive with your patience and guidance, the love you gave to my children David and Laura, the phone call before school you made to David on his 18th birthday, the willing assistance you gave to repair my car in the cold while I was in nursing school and struggling. There's many memories that are coming back and I cherish each one. I know you are free and at peace now. I hope you get to meet Jihnnny Cash, haha. I miss you! I will go on remembering you for the kind, caring man that you were. Love your daughter Jill
