“ You will endure alot of different types of pain physical and mental throughout your journey of life and what I've found is not having my mom is the worst. Not being able to see her or call her during packer games or when I'm ill or when something good transpires makes it difficult. Death is inevitable and so is the grieving process. I know she's still watching over me and someday ill be with my mom again

Paul W Witter - September 24, 2023 at 04:21 AM

“ I find myself wanting to call you mom. I miss our phone calls to each other multiple times a week. I miss us talking about the packer game The little things are hard to get over. We all know this day is destined for all of us but it doesn't make it any easier. I find myself staying super busy but when I relax for a few minutes just out of nowhere emotions just run wild. I gotta hope thats because your with me.

Nancy we were more like sisters than sisters in law. We grew up together. You embraced everyone in our family. I truly miss you. It is not the same without you here, yet I sense you remain closer than I can know. God speed Nancy, we will all be together again.

“ Grandma Nancy, she was the best. My most fond childhood memories are spent with Grandma and Grandpa. She would always bring me a snickers, have redvine licorice, and we would make trips up to the cabin and make a pit stop at Big Bear "Large". Something my own daugther was able to experience and will hopefully hold onto those memories.

It is hard to think about how fast everything seemed to happen, but I believe she is in a better place and we will get to see her again. I will make sure to bring extra chips =D

“ Jerry and Judy Hammen, Yes, we are the other couple on that Alaskan trip. I remember Nancy as the spirited one. I remained inside the cabin the whole time . We have so many good memories of Nancy. We loved our Saturday night in their basement, snow mobile trips, pontoon boat rides and suppers on the Flambeau Flowage, the times at the cabin at Winter, so many good times over 30+ years. She is sorely missed.

“ The hurt is real. The pain is real having to cope with the loss of mom is real. Like mom always did she loved us built us up and loved us like a mom does. And now I can tell she's still here guiding us.

“ It's hard to pick one favorite memory with Grandma. She was always loving and just a little bit feisty which I love about her. I remember when we would drive up north to visit the cabin she would always pack me a summer sausage sandwich but made sure to pick out all of the peppercorns because I didn't like them. I also always loved spending Christmas eve together. My favorite part was when we'd go down to the basement and listen to the Beatles, play pinball, darts and crack pistachios with Grandpa's dog-shaped nutcracker. It was the coolest place on earth. I love my grandma so much and I am going to miss her dearly.

“ So many of my favorite childhood memories are with my grandparents. Fishing on the lake, playing pinball in the basement, and watching the same VHS movies that Grandma saved just for us kids. I loved dancing with her in the kitchen to "I want a hippopotamus for Christmas.", venturing to different rummage sales, and going to the pizza place with giant icecream! There are so many amazing moments I wouldn't trade for anything in the world. I feel so grateful to have had her in my life.

“ Nancy and I were on a Halibut fishing charter with some friends, out of Homer Alaska.
The water was a little choppy and the ladies started to get sea sick, when Nancy got it a crew member said another one down. She jumped up, got it together, and proceeded to catch a Cod and 2 Halibut, no one else caught anything that day.

Nancy was like the big sister that I never had. We had great times together. The times up at the cabin Bob and Nancy loved going there. When I got sick Nancy did everything she could to help me. Bob and Nancy would drive me to Dr. Opponents all over. She really put me at ease, and laugh at my stupid jokes. I really miss her but know that I will be seeing her soon.

“ Nancy became one of my walking buddies these past few years during the months we get to spend on the Flowage. She soon became a dear friend and confidant. She had an incredible sense of humor and loving heart. We spent time together in Bible study and prayer. Our friendship soon included our husbands. She is very much missed.

“ I just learned through another lunch lady at our district that Nancy passed. Our team LOVED her! The kids and all of Allenton Elementary loved her. She always put a smile on the children's faces & when she decided to move up north & leave, I was happy for her and Bob, but a little part of us was selfish too! We had some great memories through those years. On behalf of myself and our team, please accept our condolences and prayers to you. We hold a lot of memories in Slinger. “ She was a remarkable woman as a child i remember she was there for me every day to get me off the school bus. She loves her kids unconditionally . She stuck by me through the bad choices I made and at same time was there to be proud of me with her huge heart when I excelled. I remember this monkey puppet she had she would wrap it around her body it had velcro hands and feet and she would entertain us all with it. Mom you will be missed and always loved and never forgotten because I know that you are still with us.

*Love you
Your son
Paul*
